

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The present invention provides a pharmaceutical composition for preventing and/or treating an infections and inflammations associated with intraocular surgery and intra-articular injection. The present invention is a pharmaceutical composition containing a medication and a viscoelastic substance.